History Museum

Volume 4, Issue 2

April—June, 2017

You are Invited... May 22, 2017
6:00 pm at the HHH Museum
& Education Center

Ron and Alice Howell, historians, authors, and film makers, have researched and published a comprehensive work to tell the very interesting story of the Root family from their design and patent of the iconic Coca-Cola bottle through four generations of collecting Americana. This fascinating story brings to life the local history and Daytona's early connection with the Root family who built this country's largest independent Coca-Cola bottling company.
